EARTH DAY
FOOD & WINE
FESTIVAL 2012

We generally don't allow pets at the festival, but for Louise and her falcon cousins Zsa Zsa and Beebe, we try to make an exception. An essential part of sustainable agriculture, falconry is one of the most effective bird control methods we have. You'll get a chance to meet master falconer Jim Tigan (and a few of his feathered friends) at this years event.

THE 6TH ANNUAL EARTH DAY FOOD & WINE FESTIVAL IS A WEEKEND CELEBRATION OF ALL THAT'S BEST HERE ON THE CENTRAL COAST.

The Main event is Saturday's Earth Day Food & Wine Tasting at Pomar Junction Vineyard & Winery. Over 200 purveyors of sustainably produced foods and wine will be on hand for a truly unique event: growers, vintners, and chefs coming together to serve out-of-this-world pairings of award-winning wines with one-of-a-kind dishes made with locally-sourced fruits, vegetables, meats, cheeses, olive oils, chocolates and more. Trust us. You won't go hungry.

Top it all off with live music, dancing and more, and we think you'll see that for a bunch of farmers dedicated to sustainability and nurturing the earth, we sure know how to throw one heck of a party. Gates open at 2pm. $75

PREMIERE TICKETS (EARLY ENTRY), DESIGNATED DRIVER PASSES & VIP TABLES AVAILABLE.
